DataDesk Media XL

7.0" - 15.4"

Mobile presentation case for Netbooks/Notebooks and projectors

The mobile office for giving professional presentations at your customers' premises! Mobile computing equipment is protected perfectly by the case's aluminium construction. The DataDesk Media XL is lockable and comes with two keys. The panels onto which the hardware is mounted are milled from Dibond material and the shell of the case is made from thermoformed ABS plastic. The Notebook is held in place with corner supports and fastening pins. These can be adjusted individually on the Notebook platform to the size of the Notebook to accommodate Netbooks from 7" upwards to Notebooks of 15.4" in size whilst in transit. The hinged panels are also held in place with sash locks. The Velcro pads that are supplied can be used to hold the power supply units in place or alternatively the Notebook. The projector panel can be adjusted to different heights by means of a folding hinge joint and accommodates the most common projectors with maximum dimensions of 350 x 245 x 100 mm. This ensures that the optimum angle can be achieved for presentations. The projector is fixed onto the projector panel with two Velcro fasteners, three corner supports and two fastening pins. Furthermore, flatter projectors can be protected with the removable foam cushioning in the case lid. This ensures that your Notebook and projector are held snugly in place inside the case whilst in transit. The advantage for you: Your equipment is ready to use at your customers' premises and requires no more lengthy setting up!

Two different adaptors (1 x Euro 8 and 2 x Euro 8 with a protective earth conductor – IBM/ Compaq cable) ensure that Notebooks from different manufacturers can be connected. The power connection can be modified for DELL-type power supply connectors, if required. The power supply unit from the Notebook and the projector are connected via the 220/230V IEC power socket on the exterior of the case. The required power cable is included with your DataDesk Media XL. Space for mobile accessories is available in the compartment underneath the Notebook platform.
